

Figure 1: Chord duration plots for 100 samples. The y-axis represents the total duration in seconds, and the x-axis represents the feature (chord). The plots show the distribution of chord durations for each sample.